

Suggested Questions for Jason and Ann Andrews

For Jason:

- * The title of your mother's new book is Jason, My Indigo Son. What is an Indigo Child? Is there a difference between a multi-dimensional being, Indigo or Star Child?
- * Are Indigo children the same as so called human/alien hybrids?
- * Are all Indigo children Star children? How would someone recognise a 'Star Child'?
- * Your mother explains that you are a "walk-in" and that you took the body of a child she was giving birth to who was dying. Please explain what a "walk-in" is and if walk-ins are a common occurrence.
- * Since two humans created your body, is your DNA completely human? Are there any differences in your biology that show your alien connections?
- * Do you consider yourself an abductee now that you collaborate with these alien beings?
- * Where are you from?
- * Your older brother, Daniel, who told your parents that you were "an original soul"? What does "original soul" mean?
- * Do you consciously have access 24/7 to your multidimensional consciousness? Can you connect with other aliens at will? Are you summoned or do you just "know" where and when you are needed?
- * Why did the aliens allow you to be terrified as a child when experiencing abductions if you are of alien origin? What was the purpose of the procedures, which were often painful and frightening?
- * How do you describe your interactions with the alien beings now that you are cooperating with them?
- * Why are you here on Earth at this point in time?
- * Why are other beings, or aliens, interested in our planet? Are there many other races of alien life here?
- * Do you believe that all aliens are friendly and here to help the planet evolve?
- * Many experiencers report that not all aliens are here to help with humanity's evolution. Does this possibility imply that good and evil exists throughout the universe?
- * Your mother wrote about your experiences with 'the greys.' Are they the only race of ET's with whom you work? How many different species have you met? What are they like and what are their agendas?
- * What do you know of government cooperation with aliens?

- * The book relates a harrowing encounter your mother had with the Reptilians when they were looking for you. What was going on, why were they looking for you?
- * Why do so many abductees report unpleasant experiences if these beings are here to help us?
- * According to your mother there is an energy that surrounds you when you sleep that is repulsive and sometimes frightening for other humans. What is the purpose of this energy? What does it feel like to you?
- * Why does this energy surround you when you sleep? Does it travel with you when you are not at home? Is it always with you?
- * Do the aliens that come to you appear to be solid – like you and me – or are they more etheric, like ghosts? Do you deal with them often in physical form or do you contact them telepathically?
- * Please describe the work you do in other dimensions and where your personality self, Jason, goes when you are working in these other realms. Are you pulled out of your body during those times, and if so, what does your body do while you're out helping?
- * Do you have extraordinary healing and/or psychic abilities?
- * You talk of 'the Guardians' and how wise and knowledgeable they are. Have they given you any information about the fate of our world that you can share with us?
- * What do you think the future holds for you personally? As a planet?

For Ann Andrews:

- * Apparently you come from a family with a long history of abductions. How did you learn of this history? How far back into your family do the abductions go?
- * You wrote that your oldest son, Daniel, had a lot of ET contact when he was a young child, and that he was actually the one who helped you realize that Jason had contact with other beings. How did Daniel tell you about the people Jason was being visited by?
- * In your book you write about your fears of Jason going over to “them” when you realized he was allowing them to share his emotions. Do you feel you’ve lost him or has he integrated in experiences enough to live a balance life of family, friends and work?
- * Who do you think was behind your having to leave the farm and the land you owned?
- * Do you believe that there are governments working with alien species?
- * You shared in the book a very personal experience about an unborn child of yours that Jason helped you connect with, Nathan, who you now believe was “taken” from you while in utero, to be raised as an alien-hybrid child. Have you reconciled this experience? If so, do you believe Nathan is alive and well, living as an alien? Do you have contact with him?
- * Do you continue to have on-going experiences with aliens or have things quieted down in your household?
- * What kind of advice do you have for other parents of children who are exceptional and report unusual, possibly extraterrestrial experiences?
